I am looking over the CERCLA section of the compendium and will draft any necessary changes. I have a couple of quick questions for you:

1. Do you have a deadline for revisions? I plan to work on the compendium this week but would like a general time frame from you, if possible.
2. Is the general tone / format of the document going to change? For example, do you anticipate including information about the Range or Dimock situations? Or, will it continue to be a general legal primer?

Thanks so much,
Anne

Karin and Trish --

As you may recall, last summer we issued an energy extraction "Legal Compendium" to provide a primer on the various enforcement and compliance monitoring authorities we can bring to bear in this sector. Folks in your shop (principally, Anne Berube and Carl Garvey, if memory serves) helped to write the CERCLA section and parts of the RCRA section. (I'm attaching the final version to refresh your recollections.)

Our division is now revising the sections for all other statutes but CERCLA. Our goal is to have a completed draft version for review a month from now (June 8th). We would like to see if you guys want to make any necessary additions to the CERCLA section. I am cautiously optimistic that any revisions to the CERCLA section will not be extensive, though I can imagine you may want to include more exposition on the use of our CERCLA 104 response authorities.

Please let me know your thoughts. We are under some pressure to produce a revised primer and would really appreciate your help.

Thanks in advance.
